FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

PBS 45 & 49 to Offer Free Heart Health Program at Green YMCA

The Hidden Epidemic: Heart Disease in America is part of station's Aging Smart initiative

KENT, Ohio — Feb. 13, 2007 — Community members are invited to attend a free program on heart health sponsored by PBS 45 & 49 and Northeast Ohio Cardiovascular Specialists. The event will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 28 from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. at the Green YMCA, 3800 Massillon Rd., Uniontown. It includes a screening of the PBS film The Hidden Epidemic: Heart Disease in America and a question-and-answer segment with Louann Baily, a certified nurse practitioner from Northeast Ohio Cardiovascular Specialists. Participants also will receive free take-home materials about heart health. Pre-registration is required; to reserve a seat, call 1-800-554-4549.

Heart disease is the number-one killer of Americans, and more than half of all people who die of the disease succumb without warning. The other half have the disease lurking in their bodies for many years before it strikes. There is no cure, but doctors are learning remarkable new things about the disease: where it starts, how it occurs and what that means for everyone.

The Hidden Epidemic is part of PBS 45 & 49's Aging Smart initiative, a service for its viewers who are over the age of 55. The initiative includes on-air programming, community events and a free quarterly newsletter — all designed to help community members age positively, healthfully and wisely. The on-air programming runs Mondays through Fridays from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m., with additional programming found throughout the primetime and weekend broadcast schedule.

For more information about Aging Smart, or to be added to the newsletter mailing list, call PBS 45 & 49 at 1-800-554-4549 or visit pbs4549.org.

Nationwide, The Hidden Epidemic is the centerpiece of a PBS health campaign called Take One Step. This outreach campaign is based on the concept that small — and sometimes fun — behavioral changes can add up to big accomplishments. The community partner for this campaign is YMCA of the United States. Find out more about Take One Step online at pbs.org/wgbh/takeonestep.
